Where Are We Headed?

ARTHUR PENN, CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD
AS WE NEAR THE END OF THE FIRST YEAR OF OUR TERM,

the other officers of PAS and I feel blessed to serve a thriving, vibrant community built on relationships and a passionate vision. We are partners with an incredibly gifted clergy and professional team, and our members are caring, active and engaged.

Under Rabbi Cosgrove's leadership, we have moved to create multiple points of entry that are responsive to 21st-century lives. We strive to make PAS a laboratory for how to live Jewishly in America, while being active members of secular society. PAS seeks to be a destination for spiritual enlightenment and teaching, a connection to the past and a pathway to the future, a hub of thought leadership and a multi-generational center for learning, community and celebration.

In the past year, we have focused specifically on three areas: services, searches and space. Thanks to tireless efforts of our search committees, we are beginning the next year with a professional team that is stronger than ever. In July, Rabbi Neil Zuckerman will join our clergy as Associate Rabbi, and we will welcome Rabbi Ethan Witkovsky as Assistant Rabbi. Rabbi Charles Savenor will take on the job of Director of Congregational Education. Pamela Schwartz will begin as Director of the Early Childhood Center. We also welcome Eliana Light in the new position of Director of Music Education. Our "dream team" of clergy and educators, together with their support team, is dedicated to enriching and integrating the educational opportunities open to PAS members of all ages.

We will continue to focus efforts on making our services inviting and participatory while preserving our legacy of traditional prayer and synagogue music. Our reimagined Friday night services now draw an enthusiastic crowd of congregants of all ages, including parents and grandparents with children as well as singles and couples, all finding a meaningful way to break from the work week and welcome Shabbat. In the next year we will experiment once a month with a revised schedule for Shabbat morning prayer and learning that will encourage participation of all age groups and will facilitate an integrated experience for parents and grandparents who want to pray and study as adults as well as to attend synagogue with their children.

Regarding space, among the blessings of an increasingly involved congregation are that our High Holiday services are over-subscribed, our schools have grown beyond capacity, and our adult classes serve hundreds of people at all hours of the day and evening. I am thrilled to announce that we will add a third High Holiday service this fall to serve the needs of the hundreds of members for whom there has not been adequate seating in our Sanctuary or Lower Level services. Details will follow in the September Bulletin.

As far as how our space is used during the rest of the year, we are currently formulating a plan for the future, to be announced in the months ahead.

But don't wait for future announcements to get involved! At the same time as our clergy, staff, and lay leadership are working to bring PAS even more engaging services and diverse educational options, there are already countless ways to make PAS your home away from home. I invite and encourage you to participate in meaningful and fun family events and holiday celebrations, to take a thought-provoking adult class, to travel with PAS, and to sing with the Congregational Singers or the Purim Spielers. Volunteer for a Tikkun Olam mitzvah opportunity, or have fun with the Men's Club, Women's Network or Young Couples Group. And come to services. Rabbis Cosgrove, Zuckerman and Witkovsky and Cantors Schwartz and Lissek are eager to meet you and get to know you, so please introduce yourself to them. If you are a teen, college student or young adult, please watch for new offerings and especially come meet Rabbi Witkovsky, who will be reaching out and designing programs to better serve your needs.

Our goal for the coming year is for our strong community to grow even stronger. I hope you will be part of it. Have a great summer. See you at PAS!

How does Jewish tradition approach dilemmas of faith? In our four sessions, we will begin to address some of the big questions. What does it mean to believe? Reel Theology: A Context Mini-Course

Wednesdays | July 9, 16, 23, 30 | 7:00 – 8:30 pm | Dr. Wendy Zierler

What religious or theological function can be performed by popular culture? What role can contemporary movies play in a curriculum of sacred study? Can films really provide occasions of transcendence, divine encounter and Jewish religious exploration? In this course, we will engage in a process of inverted midrash, “reading” contemporary movies as an entry point into the study of Jewish text and belief. Each film will provide an occasion for the exploration of a particular Jewish theme: divine providence and free will (The Truman Show); repentance and confession (Magnolia); memory (Memento); and faith/doubt (A Serious Man). Sessions will be devoted to discussing film clips and supplemental readings. Students will view complete films independently outside of class.

Cost: $72/members; $125/non-members

Register online at www.jtsa.edu/

Jewish Lens: Annual Zayin Class Photography Exhibition Summer

This year's Zayin learners turned their collective lens onto their families. According to author Bruce Feiler, children who learn their families' stories develop stronger identities and are more resilient and self-confident, because they understand that they belong to something larger than themselves. To explore this topic, members of the 7th grade class interviewed family members, set up family photograph scenarios and created photographic portraits to learn about and solidify their Jewish identity. In addition to studying their own family stories, learners exchanged letters and cultural information with their counterparts at our Jewish Lens partner, Moshav Sde Yacov in the north of Israel.

Early Childhood Center Applications for 2015-16

PAS member families who would like to apply to the Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center for the 2015-16 school year are asked to call the school (212-369-2600, x150) and request an application form starting May 1, 2014. All children who were born before April 1, 2013 are eligible for school in September 2015. The Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center adheres strictly to its cut-off dates. Families who have been active longtime members of the synagogue are given special consideration; however, because of limits on class size and the need to balance groups in a variety of ways, membership does not guarantee acceptance.

There is an application fee of $50 per child. The application process includes a visit and tour of the school by one or both parents and a separate visit with the child.

For the school year beginning in September 2014 there were approximately 55 openings. It will be very helpful to have some idea prior to September how many eligible member families are interested in a place for the 2015-16 school term. This will enable us to determine how many applications from new members or nonmembers we will be able to accept. Thank you so much for your interest in the school and for your cooperation.

News from the Congregational School

Vav Class Tzedakah Learning Project

JENNIFER STERN, ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

THIS YEAR ONCE AGAIN, the Vav (Grade 6) learners took a leadership role in the Congregational School by helping to decide where to donate a portion of the money collected on Mitzvah Day. Tikkun olam and social action are core components of the sixth-grade curriculum. Just as Mitzvah Day is an annual event for the PAS community, allocating a share of the tzedakah collected has become an annual project for the Vav class. In the course of the year, Vav class learners not only find out about specific causes and organizations, but begin to understand what factors to take into account in giving tzedakah.

To begin the process, the Vav learners heard from several speakers about the work of a variety of nonprofit organizations: Gift of Life; the American Joint Distribution Committee; Orr Shalom, Green Chimneys; Project Ezra; and the New York Common Pantry. Each organization has a distinctly different mission, some doing work locally, others globally, in different countries, including Israel. The learners then broke into study groups based on which of the organizations they wanted to focus on.

After learning more about the different nonprofits, the Vav learners taught the rest of the Congregational School about the different organizations so that learners from other grades would be prepared to vote on how the Mitzvah Day tzedakah should be awarded. Each group of Vav learners created a bulletin board displaying what they learned about the organization they researched. The vote was held at the end of school and the results will be announced in the fall.
